INTERESTING DECISION OF THE FIRST COMP-TROLLER OF THE UNITED STATES TREASU-

Washington, D. C., April 18.—A case was decided to-day by First-Comptroller was decided to-day by First-Comptroller Lawrence, of the Treasury Department, which is considered of importance. A citation of Tennessee, named John J. Pulliam, employed a Washington lawyer to prosecute a claim against the United States in 1880, and in 1882 the claim was allowed and a draft for the amount, payable to the claimant, was delivered to the attorney.

(The gradient was allowed and a grave claimed a fee of $1.500. liam's draft was delivered to the receiver of the bank. Pulliam died in Tennessee, and an administrator was appointed in that State. An administrator was also appointed in the District of Columbia. The receiver applied to the First Comptroller to instruct the Treasurer to pay the draft on the endorsement of the District administrator, which was refused, because the district administrator, which was refused, because the limit of the properties of which a tope rains through pulleys down one of the uprights to the pulleys down one of the uprights to the dase, where a six-hundred-pound weight was suspended over a deep pit, and which. The receiver then filed the creditors' bill in equity in the District against the District administrator altorney. and by published notice attempted to make afternoon. and by published notice attempted to make the Tennessee administrator a party defendant. A decree was made that the receiver should endorse and collect the money on the draft, retain $1,500, and pay the residue in court for the Tennessee administrator. The decree was presented to the First Comptroller, with the request that he instruct the Treasurer to make payment.

Comptroller Lawrence decides that the title to the draft is vested in the Tennessec administrator; that the latter could not be sued in this District, even if he was found here, and consequently could not be sued on a published notice; and that the decree of the District Court did not affect the rights of the Tennessec administrator. The The possession of the draft by the District administrator did not affect the result. The Comptroller says this conclusion is required by public interests. Citizens in the States will not deal with the Government if creditors may come from all parts of the United States and prevent them from receiving payment of money due them, so that they may pay all creditors alike and not permit a preference to such as those who come to Washington to bring suit. Share speculation opened strong, and ½iii ligher than at yesterday's close. There was a further factional advance in the early dealings, after which the market became weak, and at 11 o'clock recorded a dectine ranging from ½ to 1. led by Northwest. Union Pacific, and the Vanderbilts. From then until shortly after midday the market was strong and sold up ½ iii ½s. Now dersey Central, Ontario, and Western. Lomisville and Nashville being prominent in the recovery, while Hamabal and St. Joseph preferred rapidly rose to 91½ from 85½ at vesterday's close. The market then became weak. During the next two hours or more a decline of 3 took place in Haamibal and St. Joseph preferred; ½ in Northwest; 2 in Chicago, Burdington and Quincy, 1½ in New Jersey Central and Central Pacific, and ½ii ½ in the rest of the Bist-the latter Union Pacific. This was followed by a recovery of 2 in Haamibal and St. Joseph preferred, ½ in Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, and a smaller fraction in the general list. The market closed generally firm and ½ii 1½ lower than yesterday's closing, while Hamibal and St. Joseph preferred was 4½ higher. The decline in Northwest is due to the annonnement that $10,000,000 in 5 per cent, bonds would be issued to cover the purchase of the St. Paul and Omaha railroad. Transactions aggregated 434,000 shares.

MARITIME MISCELLANY. While the brig Aabine, from the Janetro, and the schooner Governor J. Y. Smith, from Weymouth, Mass., were being towed through Dutch Gap Tursday night, the rapid current caused by freshet in the river carried the Aabine against the southern bank of the gap, where she was run into by the schooner, and beth vessels sustained some damage. This accident necessarily delayed both vessels, but the Smith was brought up last night, and the Aabine will come up to-day.

The steamer Wyoming, from Philadelphia for Richmond, Van. was on the evening of the 17th anchored below New Castle, Del., with slight damage to machinery.
